Hi Don Solaris. I am a poor student but have an old ensoniq DP 4 as my only effects processor and really like the sound of your presets. Unfortunately money is tight so I was hoping also you would do the same 50% discount as other software companies do for your DP4 collection in sympathy with a student in need?

I attached a picture of my student ID.

Fingers crossed !

/Kristian

Hello

I appreciate your interest in the soundset, and I want to clarify that sound design is my sole source of income. Creating a soundset is a significant and time-consuming task that requires a great deal of dedication and effort.

As a professional store, we have a strict policy against bargaining. Our prices are set to reflect the quality and effort put into our products, including soundsets. We understand that you might have budget constraints, but we would like to emphasize that the prices in our store are non-negotiable. We have a registered business with prices on which we then submit a report and pay tax at the end of the year to the central tax office. We can not modify prices of our existing products.

Thank you for understanding!

Best Regards!

Don Solaris | Sound Designer

Hello,

I hope this message finds you well. I wanted to take a moment to address our recent interaction. While we value open dialogue, it's important for us to maintain a respectful tone. It's essential for fostering a positive and productive relationship. Unfortunately, the manner in which our interaction unfolded did not align with the standards of conduct we strive for in our business interactions.

I hope you understand the importance we place on professionalism and courtesy. We believe that fostering a mutually respectful conversation is integral to successful collaborations. Regrettably, due to the nature of our interaction and our commitment to maintaining respectful communication channels, we've reconsidered the possibility of pursuing any business engagements with You in the future.

Hello,

Are you threatening me that you will be illegally spreading the products that I have designed?
